Therefore, it should not be celebrated in any way.

Because of the high source of mineral content, Mulberry leaves are expected to become a super food material in the near future with preventative effects against adult diseases such as hypertension.